5. Processing of Personal Data

5.1. What are personal data?

“Personal data” is any information that can identify you either directly (for example, your name) or indirectly (for example, data presented under a pseudonym, such as a unique identification number).

5.2. What data do we collect about you and how do we use it?

Gosnami may collect your data under a legal or regulatory imperative, a contractual relationship, its legitimate interest (in order to improve its products and services), and/or informed consent.

5.3. Who can access your personal data?

We may share your personal data to comply with legal or contractual obligations, to improve our products and services, or after obtaining your consent.

Depending on the purpose for which they are collected, and exclusively on a need-to-know basis, Gosnami may have access to some of your personal data; whenever possible, the data is presented under a pseudonym (not allowing direct identification), and whenever necessary to provide you with the requested services.

There are external entities that assist Gosnami in providing IT services, such as WEB hosting and maintenance services, as well as software and applications that may contain data about you (such services may sometimes involve access to your data to carry out the necessary tasks).

From time to time, we may disclose your personal data to other entities, as part of the services provided. In these cases, we require that these entities in question have in place appropriate technical and organizational measures to guarantee the security of your information to protect your personal data.

5.4. Where do we store your personal data?

The data we collect from you and for which we are responsible is stored at a location in the European Union.

5.5. How long do we keep your personal data?

We only store your personal data for as long as necessary to achieve the purpose associated with processing it. To determine the data retention period, we use the following criteria:

- When you register on the Gosnami Platform, we will store your data for as long as you are our customer.
- When you submit an application to work at Gosnami, the data you provide will be kept for a period of two years.
- When cookies are placed on your computer, Gosnami will keep them for as long as necessary to achieve its objectives (for example, session identification cookies) defined in the cookies chapter;
- When you send the documents required for verification and validation of accounts, we will keep them long enough to fulfill your objective. After that, they will be completely deleted from all of our systems.

Gosnami may retain some of your personal data to comply with its legal or regulatory obligations, as well as to administer your rights (for example, to enforce petitions in Court) or for statistical or historical purposes.

When the use of your personal data is no longer necessary, it will be removed from the Gosnami system or kept anonymous so that you cannot be identified from the data.

Gosnami is committed to keeping your personal data secure and takes all appropriate precautions to do so. As such, it is contractually required that trusted external entities that process your personal data on our behalf do the same.

6. Chat Conversation Storage

At Gosnami, we are committed to providing a seamless and efficient platform for communication between service providers through our chat service. This service aims to facilitate collaboration, enhance the provision of services, and maintain a comprehensive record of relevant transactions.

As part of our dedication to transparency and user privacy, it is essential for us to outline our practices regarding the collection and storage of conversations within the chat. This privacy policy clause elaborates on how your data is handled during your use of the chat service, emphasizing the importance of protecting your information and ensuring compliance with privacy regulations, particularly the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR).

Please read the following clause carefully to understand how your chat conversations are collected, processed, and stored. By continuing to use our chat service, you signify your consent to the terms outlined in this policy.

6.1. Collection and Purpose

By using our chat service, you acknowledge and agree that conversations may be collected and stored by us. This collection is carried out for the purpose of facilitating communication between service providers, ensuring effective service provision, and maintaining a relevant transaction history.

6.2. Data Collected

The data collected during conversations may include profile information, contact details, exchanged messages, and details related to service provision. This information is strictly necessary to fulfill the mentioned purposes.

6.3. Consent

By using our chat service, you expressly consent to the collection and storage of conversations as described in this policy. You have the right to withdraw your consent at any time by contacting us hello@gosnami.com, but please note that this may affect the functionality of the service.

6.4. Retention Period

Conversations will be retained for the period necessary to fulfill the purposes for which they were collected, unless a longer retention is required by legal or regulatory obligations.

6.5. Data Security

We have implemented appropriate security measures to protect your conversations against unauthorized access, alteration, disclosure, or unauthorized destruction.

6.6. Data Subject Rights

You have the right to access, correct, or delete your conversations. To exercise these rights or for any privacy-related queries, please contact us.

7. Changes to the Policy

We reserve the right to modify this privacy policy. Significant changes will be communicated appropriately.

By using our chat service, you are aware of and agree to the terms of this chat conversation storage clause. We recommend periodically reviewing this policy to be aware of any updates.

7. Other General Provisions

Gosnami reserves the right, at any time and without prior notice, to change this Privacy Policy, but undertakes to notify all its users at a later stage.
